1. Made arrangements with the office of Representative Francis E. Walter (D., Pa.) for a luncheon tomorrow with the Director. The Director will brief Francis Walter on the World Youth Festival at Vienna.

[redacted] in IO is preparing a substantive briefing paper.

3. Talked with Verley M. Raxroad, Senate Appropriations Committee staff, inviting him to meet with Station personnel at various stops on his world tour. The arrangements were left flexible and he will inquire of the Ambassador for the CIA individual where time permits a briefing. Major Joseph J. Smyth, the Air Force escort officer, was also briefed on the arrangements for possible assistance. Appropriate cables and pouches are going forward.

6. Chester M. Wiggin, Jr., Administrative Assistance to Senator Styles Bridges (R., N.H.) telephoned from New Hampshire saying that the Senator was interested in a [redacted] who apparently had had one contact with the Agency seeking employment. Arrangements were made for [redacted] to call on Legislative Counsel on 18 September and have appropriate personnel interviews. Mr. Wiggin was most appreciative of these arrangements.

8. Mr. Walter Reynolds, Senate Government Operations Committee staff, returned General Cabell's classified statement given before the House Foreign Affairs Committee in its deliberations on the passport bills.

9. General Cabell and the Inspector General mentioned the conversation of General Dunford with Representative John Bell Williams (D., Miss.). Dunford advised that Representative Williams told him that he was informed by a member of the Appropriations Committee that two CIA people who were there to brief the Committee would not give him their names. I suggested to Dunford that the appropriate response to Williams whom he apparently knows well as a neighbor should be if CIA people are there to brief a Committee there would be no reason to withhold their names and they are not withheld. I speculated that possibly two of the Security people who assisted in a technical sweep of the room might have been approached by someone, possibly this congressman, and not knowing who was addressing them did not freely offer their names and affiliation. This matter is being checked further.
